

The ocean's delicate coral reefs are affected by changes caused by humans. To illustrate, dumping waste products and garbage in the sea results in changes in the natural environment. Due to these changes the ocean becomes polluted, and as a consequence, coral reefs are damaged. When the ocean becomes extensively polluted, coral reefs die.

Cause #1

humans dump
waste in the ocean

Cause #2

The oceans are becoming polluted

Effect

Coral reefs
are dying

Solution #1

Solution #2

Problem

Coral Reefs
are dying

